A fresh look for u3a

What do you think of our new look?

Unveiled at our Annual General Meeting, the bright colours, friendly language and new imagery better reflect the connection, energy and vibrancy of this amazing movement.

Over the last year we have embarked on many conversations with the movement in this process so that it better reflects the vibrancy, connection, and learning that takes place every day across the movement – the living embodiment of positive ageing.

We hope it will help position the movement to challenge some of the preconceptions around what ageing means.
